

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Welcome.

Come in the evening, or come in the morning,
Come when you're looked for, or come without warning.
Kisses and welcome you'll find here before you,
For you are my heart since the day we were plighted;
And the linnets are singing, "True lovers don't sever!"

I'll pull you sweet flowers to wear if you choose them,
Or, after you've kissed them, they'll lie on my bosom.
I'll catch from the mountain its breeze to inspire you;
I'll fetch from my fancy a tale that won't tire you,
Oh! your step's like the rain to the summer-voiced farmer,
Or sabbler and shield to a knight without armor.

I'll sing you sweet songs till the stars rise above me,
Then, wandering, I'll wish you, in silence, to love me.
We'll look through the trees at the cat and the eel,
We'll read round the path on the path of the fairy;
We'll look on the stars, and we'll list to the river,
Till you ask of your darling what gift you can give her.

Oh! she'll whisper you, "Love, as unchangeably beaming,
And trust, when in secret, most unceasingly streaming,
Till the stars of Heaven above us shall quiver,
As our souls flow in one down eternity's river."

So come in the evening, or come in the morning,
Come when you're looked for, or come without warning.
Kisses and welcome you'll find here before you,
For you are my heart since the day we were plighted;
And the linnets are singing, "True lovers don't sever!"

WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

By SIR JOHN BOWRING.

"What of the Night?" "In the Cross of Christ I glory" and others of the hymns of Sir John Bowring have won, by their earnestness and devotion, lasting place among the popular religious songs of England and America. Their author was born at Exeter, England, in 1792, and died there in 1852. He had a long and distinguished career in various branches of literature, as a traveler, and as a member of Parliament and Governor of Hongkong. He was made a Knight-Commander of the Bath in 1854.

The suggestion of this poem occurs in Isaiah, Chap. xxi, verse 11.

WATCHMAN, tell us of the night—
What its signs of promise are!
Traveler, o'er your mountain's height
See that glory-beaming star!
Watchman, doth its bounteous ray
Aught of hope or joy foretell?
Traveler, yes; it brings the day—
Promised day of Israel.

WATCHMAN, tell us of the night—
Higher yet that star ascends!
Traveler, blessedness and light,
Peace and truth, its course portends.
Watchman, will its beams alone
Gild the spot that gave them birth?
Traveler, ages are its own,
And it bursts o'er all the earth!

WATCHMAN, tell us of the night,
For the morning seems to dawn.
Traveler, darkness takes its flight—
Doubt and terror are withdrawn.
Watchman, let thy wanderings cease;
Hie thee to thy quiet home.
Traveler, lo! the Prince of Peace—
Lo! the Son of God is come.

Embroidered Gowns.
Society, or at least the feminine contingent, which is the better part of it, this week of embroidered lingerie gowns at the Woman's Exchange, that display specimens of the handwork done at Lady Aberdeen's Industrial and Art School, established by her for women and girls in Ireland. The material on which the embroidery is done is a beautiful quality of sheer, white linen lawn. The patterns are flourishing, front panel and waist are exquisitely done, but it is thought that many of the Exchange members could do the same kind of embroidery, at less cost, if orders were placed for it at the Exchange.

Miss Watt at Club.
Mrs. E. R. Morton will be chairman this afternoon at the Woman's Club, when Miss Lila Watt, secretary-general of the Union to Lepers, in Canada and the United States, will talk to the members of the club and others interested in work now being done for the Leper Settlement, of the needs of the most suffering and sorrowful class of humanity.

Miss Watt has given up her home in Canada to better devote herself to her work. Her talk will be one in which all the philanthropically inclined cannot fail to be deeply interested.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST

Martin Thought to Have Best of Fight in Petersburg—Fight for Constable.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., April 19.—Dr. William Preston Hoy, one of the city physicians, vaccinated forty or more negroes in a notorious colored bar last night while policemen guarded the exits to the building.

In the Mayor's Court this morning the case of Lewis Foster, colored, who had been sent on to the Hastings Court for stealing a watch, was recalled with a change of warrant from grand to petit larceny. Foster was given ninety days. Charles Williams, a negro charged with housebreaking and robbery in Prince George county, was held for the county authorities.

PETERSBURG POLITICS.
In the municipal campaign there are now three candidates for the office of constable, J. A. Binford having just entered the game. The other two are the incumbent, John A. Mallory and E. H. Plummer.

More interest seems to be taken here in the senatorial contest than anywhere else, and a partisan of either candidate is the argument he wants, although Martin is said to be gaining in this city.

It is reported that efforts are being made to hold a local option election in Ettrick next fall.

MR. BARNWELL'S COMING.

The announcement of the Rev. Dr. W. Barnwell's acceptance of the call to St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in this city, is received here with much pleasure.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., April 19.—Mr. C. Harris, of this city, who is the assistant division inspector of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans of the State, having been requested by Division Commander E. Lee Trenkle to name a sponsor and maid of honor from the First Congressional District, to the Grand Confederate Reunion, at Louisville, Ky., in June, has appointed Miss Alice G. Cole, daughter of Colonel E. D. Cole, as sponsor, and Miss Mattie D. Quinn, daughter of Captain B. J. Quinn, as maid of honor, both of this city. Both ladies have accepted the appointment.

Mr. M. A. Nunn, of Guilford, has purchased of Mrs. Kate Crist, of Philadelphia, her farm in Spotsylvania county, containing 163 acres, at a good price.

Acorn Lodge of Odd Fellows, No. 261, of this city, celebrated its first anniversary. The entertainment took place in the beautiful hall of the lodge, where an interesting programme was carried out. Those who delivered addresses were Lawrence Perry, Noble Grand; Grand Master C. W. Morris, of Richmond, was present and made a fine address. Rev. Deacon J. Edwards, of this city, also made an address. The attendance was large, many ladies being present, and refreshments were served.

At Myrtle Lodge of Odd Fellows, in this city last night, Grand Master C. W. Morris, of Richmond, was present and after an address from him, eleven new candidates were initiated in the lodge.

LICENSE REFUSED.

Half Fought Contest by Distillery in Mecklenburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BOYDTON, VA., April 19.—The application of E. J. Ellington for liquor license, near Jeffress Junction, where he has conducted a distillery for some time, was refused by Judge Sweeney yesterday. The temperance men of the neighborhood had fought the case most vigorously and both sides had able counsel. The applicant had four lawyers and the temperance men had two, one of them was Mr. Thomas Whithead, of Lynchburg, who is not only a temperance man, but an ardent temperance advocate.

There are three other cases of a similar character to be disposed of by the court at this term. Court will be in session several days.

REUSENS FURNACE.

Work of Rehabilitation Completed and $40,000 to be Spent.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, VA., April 19.—Work was started this morning on the rehabilitation of the old furnace, at Reusens, several miles west of Lynchburg, on the James River division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. The furnace has passed to the control of the Southern Development Company, of Philadelphia, which company is under contract to expend $40,000 in the next three months in the restoration of the plant. It is understood that the furnace will be operated as soon as possible. To start with, it will have a capacity of one hundred tons a day.
